All knowledge is collectively produced, and this book is no exception. I am especially grateful to the research officers of the Institute of African Studies at the University of the Witwatersrand, to reading groups in Johannesburg and Cape Town, and to Phil Bonner, David Webster and Eddie Webster for their useful comments on the manuscript.

This book grew out of the first Social History Workshop held at the University of the Witwatersrand in 1978. I based much of my work on the papers presented there. The Workshop also gave me financial assistance. It is therefore appropriate that the publication of this first volume of A Peoples' History of South Africa should coincide with their second workshop.

I would also like to thank Mike Kirkwood, Andy Mason, Dorothy Wheeler, Mpikayipheli Figlan, Rose Zwi and Sandy Parker, of Ravan Press, as well as Carohne Cornell, Lesley Lawson and Kevin Humphrey, for the many hours of work they put into the editing and production of this book.
