

PART ONE

THE COMING OF GOLD

The coming of gold brought the industrial revolution to South Africa. In a short space of time, South Africa was transformed from a land economy — in which people lived and worked on the land — to an industrial, capitalist society.

Part I of this book explains how the nature and the needs of gold mining in South Africa created the conditions for these changes.